DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species 1 of Figures 1-6, Species 2 of Figures 8-9, Species 3 of Figures 10-11, Species 4 of Figures 12-13, Species 5 of Figure 14, Species 6 of Figure 15, and Species 7 of Figures 16-17.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species 1 of Figures 1-6 corresponds to claims 20-32, 39-46 and 48. Species 5 of Figure 14 corresponds to claim 34. Species 6 of Figure 15 corresponds to claims 33 and 46. Species 7 of Figures 16 and 17 corresponds to claims 35-37, and 47.

The following claim(s) are generic: Claims 19 and 38.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The appliance of species 2, illustrated by Figures 8 and 9, show a channel that is not tied with the original embodiment of the invention, and also shows a channel (121) that is not tied to species 1. The top panel of Species 3, illustrated by Figures 10 and 11, shows internal conduit (21) incorporated into the top panel of the appliance, but is not included into the concept of Species 1. The top panel of species 4, illustrated by Figures 12 and 13, show a different embodiment of the internal conduit of species 3, which is used to channel through a different type of wire. The reversible connector of species 5 comprises at least one discontinuity (101) and, as illustrated in Figure 14, is structurally different from the reversible connector in species 1, Figure 2. The reversible connector of species 6 comprises couplings (30) and, as illustrated in Figure 15, introduces an entirely different connection system from the reversible connector in species 1, Figure 2, which comprise a rectilinear guide (6a) and counter-glide (6b). Species 7 introduces an air duct (130), as seen in Figures 16 and 17, which would require a modified bottom closure wall and seat to receive the air duct, something of which the bottom closure wall of Species 1 is not intended.

A telephone call was made to Mark Davis on 4/10/2009 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
